

To whom it may concern,

I would like you to know that without Airl's broadcasting in our community, there would be many who would suffer a negative effect. Airl provides positive expression, spiritual support and most of all, it holds together those in need of hope and the assurance of not only God's love but the love of their neighbors and yes, even strangers who share common beliefs and share bonds due to common trials. It is a place where those in need may come and receive perhaps the only positive words they may hear for that day. It is a reminder to all of us who listen that we are not alone. It is a place of hope, of fellowship and a place of assurance. There are times when that is all a person may have to keep them going. I have heard many times through my years of listening to Airl how a song, a testimony, a spoken scripture has saved a life because it reminded them that there is hope, they weren't alone and yes, we are all loved even when there was no one there to love us. Please do not allow us to lose such a valuable place of hope. Even those who are not particularly spiritual have much to gain from Airl. In such a confusing time, it is good to know that young and old can gain a sense of hope and encouragement and love simply by turning on their radio and hearing the words of a stranger comfort and console them. It is not just a christian broadcast, it is a broadcast for humanity to see and feel the best part of humanity. Love, compassion, hope and fellowship. Thank you for taking the time to read my thoughts and concerns. Daniece L. Blue
